Chantelle Hodgson

Chantelle joined Canford for Sixth Form and was a fantastic member of her house. She enthusiastically participated in all house competitions, took up Lacrosse, and argued her case in Model UN debates. Her Business Studies teacher described her as one of the hardest working students he has ever taught, and on Speech Day she was awarded the Prize for Business Studies.

Chantelle also took an active role in many charity fundraisers, including a four-week National Citizen Service award where she and her team were challenged to budget on just £1 a day, ultimately raising money for a women's refuge. She also volunteered in an orphanage in Tanzania on a school Partnership trip.

In her A Levels, Chantelle achieved an A in Business Studies and Bs in English and Religious Studies.

She is now studying Business Psychology at Loughborough University.
